

Notes

What is it?

UNotes is a lightweight productivity tool that helps you accelerate your workflow by bringing the power of sticky notes into Unity.

A great, colorful way to keep track of your tasks.

Stick a note on your game objects in the editor and type in your goals. See all of your notes in one place and go to the object they point to in one single click!

Leaves no traces when you build.

UNotes gives its best against complex scene hierarchies which make finding a specific GameObject particularly obnoxious but every project, even the simplest, can take advantage of UNotes.

Please note: in addition to this documentation we included a scene called “Tutorial” that guides you through all features. Highly recommended.

How to use it

Once you acquired and imported the package, UNotes is really easy to use.

Attach a UNote to a GameObject

- Select the GameObject you want to stick a UNote to, right click and select UNotes > Add Note.
- Dock the UNote Editor somewhere in your Layout.
- Type your tasks, notes, todos or curses<sup>1</sup> in your new note.
- Select the note's style by expanding the Options menu in the UNote window.

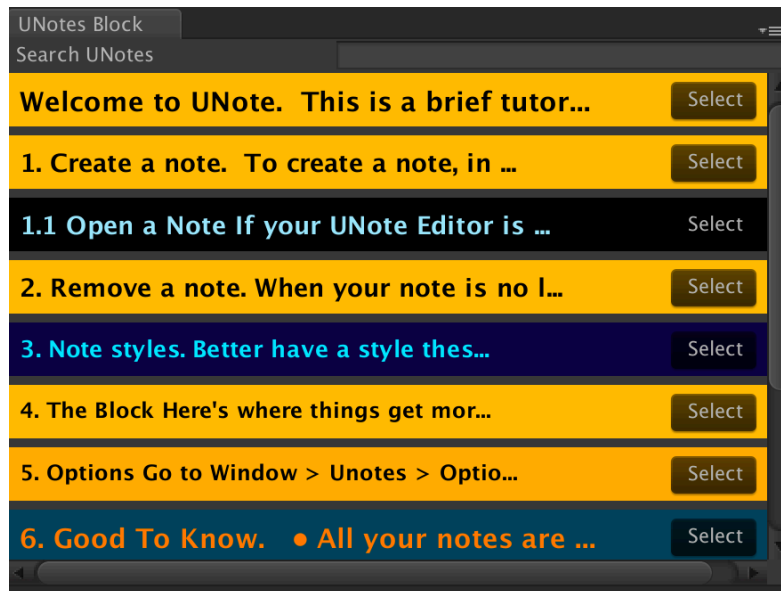

---

Browsing all your UNotes

UNotes' most valuable feature is the UNotes Block. Whenever you create a new UNote, this will immediately appear in the UNotes Block. Here you can

- browse all the UNotes that you stuck around your scene.
- reorder them by dragging them up or down<sup>2</sup>
- search through all UNotes by entering your text in the search field at the top
- and, most importantly, select the GameObject the UNote belongs to with one single click.

Exporting your notes to a TXT file

You can export your notes to a text file.

Only UNotes that belong to the current scene can be exported.

To export, go to Window > UNotes > Export to TXT file.
